Civic polls campaigning hit. nod for rallies withdrawn

With Balbagarh emerging as the new epicentre, police had to resort to use of force to disperse the agitating youths who allegedly started pelting them with stones and tried to damage the government and private vehicles.

After Jind and Rohtak, which have been on the boil since Wednesday, the agitation spread to Charkhi Dadri, Dhajjar, Sonipat, Bhiwani, Mahendergarh, Rewari, Hisar, Sirsa, Fatehabad and some pockets of Yamunanagar. The protests have not only triggered unrest among the youth and unemployed, but has also but the BJP-JJP alliance in the firing line of the opposition.

AAP's Haryana in-charge Sushil Gupta has termed the "agniparikshaa" scheme as the risk for the country.

Tosham MLA Kiran Choudhry said, "How do you expect a temporary sepoy to work for the country? Second ly, after getting the weapon and other training, they will get distracted once they retire after four years of service. Ex-servicemen and their youngsters also staged a protest outside MDU gate committees in most districts as officials are learned to have withdrawn permission for the roadshows and rallies on Friday.

Claiming that the situation is under control, Haryana home minister Anil Vij said those protesting against Agnipath are certainly not the candidates, but those who want to dislodge the system.

"We shall not tolerate those resorting to violence or indulging in any such act. We have already informed the DCs and SPs to deal with such elements with zero tolerance," he said.

The protests are being seen as a reflection of the anger among the youth and unemployed, number-2 in support of Army aspirants' agitation against the new recruitment scheme.

Talking to the media, farm leader Gurnam Singh Chaduni said that first the central government brought the three farm laws by dubbing it a game-changer for agrarian class, but later it had to withdraw it owing to widespread protests.

He pointed out that it is boys from the farming background who join the defence forces and the decision to launch 'Agnipath' scheme is received and would neither serve the interest of the country nor the youths.

He said they would contact their support to protesters till the new recruitment scheme is rolled back like three farm laws. He, however urged the aspirants not to take any extreme step such as suicide.

Meanwhile, Haryana state committee of All India Kisan Sabha (AIKS) has demanded immediate withdrawal of the controversial recruitment scheme as it would open the system of contract jobs in the armed forces just like other sectors.

In a press note released in Rohtak, the AIKS, on behalf of farmers, has expressed full support and solidarity with the students and youths who are on roads against the "move of the Modi government to destroy the aspirations of lakhs of youth and their guardians for dignified regular employment".
